TWO PLAYERS ARE BANISHED

Herman Schaefer and Bob Unglaub Shower Words of Condemnation on Umpire Evans and Are Promptly Banished—Cantillon Also Condemned—Killer's Single Wins Game.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 25.—When Byron Bancroft Johnson is done with the Washington outfit, Joe Cantillon will be shy a few athletes, and may possibly have to view games for a period from a knot hole in the fence. Never in Cleveland has there been such open defiance of an umpire as the Washington persons presented the handful of fans at League Park today.

Umpire Evans, working alone, encountered trouble from the start, but got away with it, and after much conversation, the game proceeded with new hands in the places of the objectionable Washington 6, Cleveland 5; ten innings.

Herman Schaefer fanned in the first inning and didn't believe it. He protested. He protested more in the third, and was ordered out of the game. He left leisurely. As he departed, Cantillon slugged beneath the bench some. Some minutes passed.

"Get a man out here in place of Schaefer," ordered Umpire Evans. "Get one yourself," shouted back Cantillon.

"Put Jerry on second," advised Bob Unglaub, indicating the bat boy.

"No, you won't put Jerry there," responded Evans; "and you get out, too."

"I have got no more infielders," wailed Cantillon.

"You've got two minutes to get some," shouted Evans; "and you have one and three-quarter minutes."

The Fray Proceeds. Evans pulled his watch. Cantillon gazed at the ground. A minute passed. Jack Hardy hastily assumed the second base job, Catcher Slattery went to first, and "Gabby" Street went behind the bat.

The fray proceeded, and the Naps kicked the contest away.

Soon Bob Unglaub became so loud on the bench he was advised to leave the grounds.

A wild throw by Lajoie in the sixth and a muff by Perring in the tenth sent the contest glimmering. In the sixth two hands were gone when Lajoie tossed wildly. Browne had doubled. Street walked. Unglaub popped to the catcher. Lelivelt bounced a single to Stovall, and when both slid for the bag Lelivelt drew the decision. Miller hit a grounder to Ball, and Lelivelt was forced at second. Lajoie's relay to first was low and wide. Browne and Street scored.

Nationals Add Two. In the ninth Washington added two more, tying the score. A single by Lelivelt, in pass to Miller, Killer's force out, and singles by Slattery and Johnson, garnered the duo of runs.

The finish in the tenth was rapid. Two were gone, when Lelivelt beat a punt to third. Perring fumbled the ball, but had he fielded it, he would not have caught his man. Miller singled to right and Lelivelt attempted to steal third. Goode made a remarkably accurate throw, but Perring muffed the ball when an easy put-out was possible. Miller made third. Both scored on Killer's single to center. These runs were enough.

Naps Rally Fruitless. In the tenth, the Naps made a bid for the game, but the rally fell short one run. Perring was hit by a pitched ball; Hinchman fanned; Ball doubled to center field; Perring making third. He scored on a wild pitch, and Ball went to third. Easterly was sent to bat for Joss and hit a grounder to Killer. Ball ran back and forth on the line, and finally cut into the diamond. There was a question whether Catcher Street touched him with the ball. An argument ensued, and Umpire Evans ruled Ball was out anyway for dodging. Easterly made second on the play, Flick rolling a grounder to Hardy, which ended the game.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Slattery played a clever game at first. Flick made a great play on Hardy in the fourth. He nabbed a line drive away in left field after a long run.

Ball caught Slattery's fly center field in the fifth. He took the ball over his head when it looked like a safe hit.

Johnson was a victim of Goode's speed in the same inning. He hit a foul only a few inches outside the line and within ten feet of the fence. Goode caught it.

Stovall robbed Street of a hit in the tenth. He went half way to Lajoie for a ground ball and tossed to Joss at first base just in time.

In the early innings the Naps lost no time going to Johnson. Perring, Lajoie, Clarke, and Stovall all singled on the first pitch.

Schaefer and Unglaub getting out of the game probably assisted Washington materially. The energetic work of Street behind the bat helped Johnson in the pinches.

Perring almost knocked over Killer in the eighth. He hit a liner straight for Killer's knees and when he grasped the ball it whirled him around and rolled back on the grass.

Johnson was hit hard all through the game, but managed to settle down in the pinches. After Street went behind the bat he had much more success, as Slattery was unable to hold him.

The attendance was not so heavy the secretaries were overworked. One lone man sat in the left field bleachers, and in order not to be missed he selected a seat in the center of the best emptiness.

Cleveland used three pitchers in quick succession. Rhoades was hit hard in the sixth inning and retired after McBride singled in the seventh. Berger lasted through the ninth, and was replaced by Joss.

Johnson's single that put Washington in the game in the ninth inning was a pitcher's drive. He hit the first ball pitched, and the pitcher struck the Cleveland pitcher on the chest and bounced back to center field.

Boston Red Sox and Chicago Go the Limit Without Result. Chicago, Aug. 25.—The Speed Boys from Boston and the White Sox played nine innings to a 4 to 4 tie here to-day.

It seems that while the Boston club on June 23 gave Richey ten days' notice of unconditional release, a notice was not received by President Heydler at National League headquarters.

James McGuire, the new manager, has taken active charge of the Cleveland American team. McGuire gave the men a short, snappy talk, and then they reviewed the signal code.

Frank Farrell is convinced that Silk O'Loughlin is prejudiced against the Yankees, and many "fans" agree with him. O'Loughlin has become a popular umpire on the hilltop, but it's different now—New York Tribune.

Clarke Griffith, manager of the Cincinnati club, was suspended for three days by President Heydler for kicking over decisions made last Saturday by Umpire Richter in the game between New York and Cincinnati.

Bresnahan has begun to juggle with his team. He has followed the trade with Pittsburgh, in which he gave Byrne for Barbeau and Stork for Mowrey.

Stork has become a second baseman, and Mowrey will be a utility man for Bresnahan.

Earl Gardner, of the Jersey City team, who will be the Highlanders' second baseman next season, leads the Eastern League in batting with 89 hits in 56 games, his average being .312.

ANOTHER FOR TIGERS

Take Lead in Race by Again Defeating Athletics.

WIN OUT IN FINAL INNING

Athletics Tie the Score in the Ninth Season, Only to Lose Out in the Last Half—Stange and His Big Stick the Main Factors in Securing a Victory for the Tigers.

Special to The Washington Herald. Detroit, Mich., Aug. 25.—The Detroit Tigers once more lead the American League teams in the hotly contested race for this season's championship by taking the second game of the series from the Athletics this afternoon.

As on the preceding day, a hair-raising finish was witnessed by the ten thousand odd fans that filled the stands and fringed the outfield. Stange was the principal factor in the run getting for the home team, scoring the first run for the Tigers after having smashed out a double that would have been good for three bases had there been no ground rules, and opening up the way for Moriarty to come across with the winning tally in the ninth, with a liner to center too fast for Orling to handle.

Plank had all the best of Donovan in the matter of steadiness, but suffered more from hard, consecutive hitting.

Luick Favors Tigers. Luick favored the home team in the wind-up. With one run, to the good at the end of the eighth, "Wild Bill" opened the ninth by passing two men, one of them crossing with the tying run on a single by Davis, after two were out. The good fortune lay in the fact that the Athletics did not get more than one tally on Donovan's erratic work.

As it was the tie had no effect on the Tigers, who do not seem to get under full headway nowadays until the game is well advanced. The winning run was brought in with but one man out.

The pitchers for to-morrow most probably will be Mullin for Detroit and either Krause or Bender for the Athletics. Score: Detroit, RHOAE Phila. RHOAE

It is a known fact that Manager Cantillon was some time ago dickering for the services of Rossman. Later Cantillon admitted that he only wanted the player because of the crippled state of the club at that time.

Brown, of Chicago, has won twenty-three of his twenty-eight games. Mullin, the Tiger twirler, has pitched twenty-seven games this season, winning twenty.

Recruit Cole, of the White Sox, is breaking into fast company with a crash of hits. He slammed the New York pitchers for four bingles in two games.

"Hal" Chase says that he expects to be able to join the Highlanders in Detroit. The team's best inside workers are missing with him and Elberfeld both out of the game.

This will break up a combination, for a while, anyway, that looked rather promising. Schaefer was playing a great game at second, while Unglaub was playing his best game of the season. Such is the luck of a tall end.

According to our Cleveland correspondent, Cantillon is also due for a short rest. When will these troubles cease?

The Naps found Walter Johnson's delivery rather easy yesterday when they connected for fifteen bingles. It was not because the Idaho phenom was lacking in steam curves, etc. It was simply because he had too much for our recruit receiver, Slattery, to handle. He got away with his game at that; so what's the use.

For the second time since joining the local club, that youngster, Killer, broke up the game by coming forth with the necessary bingle at the proper time. Stork has become a popular umpire on the hilltop, but it's different now—New York Tribune.

Doc White, the local boy, who has been spending a few days in town "resting up," will join his team next Monday. Doc was granted a much-needed rest, and is now ready to do his share of work to help Comiskey's crew in the front rank.

TINKER SAYS CUBS WILL WIN.

Joe Tinker, the Chicago shortstop, has his own ideas about this year's pennant winners, and was recently quoted in Boston as saying that it might be a good thing for the game and for Chicago if some other city won the National League pennant this year.

He comes right back with the following, however: "Don't get the idea that our team is quitting. We are not, and we are going to trim Pittsburgh if it can be done. It means so much more money for us players, and ball players do not throw away chances to make money, especially world's championship coin."

"Chicago is not baseball mad this year, and there will not be the keen disappointment this year in our city if we fail to win that there would have been in the years that we have won."

"If it's possible we'll romp away with that flag yet, and take it from me, ours is the only club that can beat Detroit and the Athletics, whichever of those clubs win the pennant. I don't know much about the Red Sox."

"I think the Tigers will win out once more."

Deny Rossman Deal. Former Tiger First Sacker Will Not Come Here.

McAleer Makes Statement. Manager of St. Louis Browns Says He Has No Intention of Trading Player to Local Club—Nationalists in Bad Way as Result of Squabble in Yesterday's Game.

A rumor reached the ears of local baseball fans yesterday afternoon to the effect that Rossman, the former Tiger first sacker, lately traded to the Browns by Manager Hughie Jennings for First Base Tommie Jones, had been allowed to return to the local club.

According to the dope, the big fellow was to come here in exchange for Clyde Milan, Jiggs Donohue and Charlie Smith. Manager McAleer, of the St. Louis club, was queried as to the basis of the rumor last night and promptly answered as follows:

No truth in report that I intend to trade Rossman to Washington. JAMES R. McALEER.

PENSIONERS ARE EASY

Farmers Beat Them at Capital City Park.

ROBINSON HAS A BUSY DAY

Shortstop Makes Five Assists and Two Put-outs, but Slips Up on Hot Grounder by Priest—American Security and Trust Trims Aggies at American League Park, 3 to 1.

Agriculture, champions of the Departmental League, won an easy victory at Capital City Park over the Pension Bureau aggregation, 3 to 1.

Until the sixth round the game was a good one and the Pensioners had a chance to win, but in this inning the Departmental Leaguers piled up three scores on their opponents' errors, and the Pension Bureau's hopes blew skyward.

A triple by Murphy was the only long clout of the contest, but Bryan and Robinson each connected twice for timely bingles, the first named having two doubles to his credit.

Robinson had a first day at short, having five assists and two put-outs, with an error sliced in for his share of the day's play.

Winners Score First. Agriculture was first to score, breaking the ice in the opening round. After Taylor had retired, second to first, Bryan cracked out a scorching double to center, and when Doyle hit a grounder to short Robinson threw to third and caught Bryan by a few inches.

Doyle played second and Priest, hit a fast one to Robinson, who let the ball bound through his legs, scoring Doyle. Murphy ballooned to short, ending the inning.

Pension Bureau was blanked in their half of the first session and for two innings thereafter neither side did any scoring, but in the fourth each team made a tally.

For Agriculture, Doyle singled and stole second, and when Priest hit a hot one to second base, Herriman muffed the ball, Doyle counting. Priest pulling up at third on the miscalculation, Murphy's attempt to hit the ball over the fence resulted in a nice catch by Left-fielder McCarthy, and when Priest tried to go home, he was snagged at the plate.

Robinson then tried to left, but he died at the third corner when Weber's blow to Robinson was whiffed to first in time to choke him at the first station.

Pensioners Wake Up. The Pensioners made their run in this round, when, after Herriman had hit a long fly to center which was caught by Taylor, Robinson singled and McCarthy followed with another one of the same assortment, which scored Herriman from first, the Departmental Leaguers bungling the hit in the outfield. Mace fanned and Murphy went out, short to first.

An error and two hits gave the Aggies another tally in the fifth, and, in the sixth, they clinched the game by driving in three runs, on an error, a fielder's choice, a base on balls, and a single.

In the seventh, the Farmers made three more, on a base on balls, a couple of fielder's choices, and an error by Bullock. Pension Bureau made their share in the last two innings by some clever base running and a pair of long hits.

Aggies Lose to Bankers. Agriculture, of the Independence League, was defeated for the third straight time in the post-season series at American League Park yesterday, American Security and Trust trimming them to the tune of 3 to 1.

The score would have been much larger had not Umpire Betts called the game in the eighth inning, after the Bankers had scored the more runs, the score reverting back to the seventh, as the Aggies had last turn at bat.

The Aggies tallied their first run in three games, and although they lost yesterday, they believe the hoodoo that has hung with them since the beginning of the post-season series has left them, and that they will begin to win soon.

They showed a complete reversal of form yesterday, making seven costly errors, all of which counted in the run-getting. Conover, at short, is mainly responsible for his team's defeat, his four errors coming after two were gone every time.

Rawlings in Form. "Shag" Rawlings and Kummer opposed each other in the box, and each pitched good ball, and had the latter received the kind of support that the former did, there might have been another tale to tell. Both allowed four hits, but Rawlings fanned seven men, which was two more than his opponent.

The Bankers scored one in the first, Boykin led off with a clean hit to left, stole second, and went to third on Howard's fluke hit. Howard stole second a moment later. Maloney, the next batter, hit a hard one to Morgan, who threw to Graham at first, who relayed the ball home to Souder, nipping Boykin and completing a double play. West then hit a grounder to Conover, who let it get through him, Howard scoring. Rawlings ended the inning by fanning.

Score Two on Errors. The Bankers scored their last two runs in the third, taking advantage of the Aggies' misplays, which numbered three. Brooks and Boykin, the first two batters up, fanned, but Howard was passed. He went to second on a passed ball and to third on Kummer's error, when he attempted to catch him off second, the ball going into center.

Maloney then hit to Conover, who made a wild heave to first. Howard tallying from third. Maloney then stole second and scored from there, when Conover let West's easy grounder get past him.

Agriculture tallied their only run in the seventh. Morgan drew a pass and Le Due got in the way of one of Rawlings' wide ones. Morgan got too far off second and in attempting to get him, Rawlings made a wild throw to second, both players moving up. Kummer fanned, but Seltz dumped one in front of

THE PITCHER, WHO THREW MORGAN OUT AT THE PLATE, RAWLINGS THEN MADE A BALK AND LE DUE WAS ALLOWED TO SCORE. CONOVER ENDED THE INNING BY HITTING TO THE PITCHER.

The Aggies had several good chances to win the game, having men on third and second twice with only one gone, but the next batters could not connect with the needed hit.
